

Bus Behavior and Discipline

Estimated time to complete: 20 minutes

Course Description

SafeSchools Bus Behavior and Discipline course is designed to train drivers in the importance of knowing the answers to two questions: What are the rules? and What are the consequences? The answers to these two questions form the basis of an effective program for encouraging student behavior on the bus. Drivers are also presented with five scenarios that will support their efforts to prevent problems and effectively correct misbehavior.

Common Themes

- Implementing the district's written transportation policies
- Understanding the rules and consequences for misbehavior
- The principles of positive behavior management
- Preventing problems and correcting misbehavior
- Staying positive and professional while providing constant supervision

Author

Ted Finlayson-Schueler is the founder of Safety Rules! which is dedicated to safe travel for children to and from school and school activities. Ted also founded the Pupil Transportation Safety Institute (PTSI) in Syracuse, New York in 1990 and served as its Executive Director until 2004. During the 10 years from 1994 to 2004, Ted grew PTSI into a national organization serving the pupil transportation community.

Ted holds a Master of Science Degree from Syracuse University. He is currently a candidate for the doctoral program in the School of Education, Disability Studies Program at Syracuse University.

Training Environments

SafeSchools is ideal for a blended learning environment, complementing in-service or video training, or as a stand-alone training course. The SafeSchools approach engages the learner in an e-learning environment; while a Compliance Management System automatically tracks his/her progress through the courses. This assists the district administrator or training coordinator in demonstrating compliance.
