

Managing Disruptive Behavior

Estimated time to complete: 20 min.

Course Description

The goal of SafeSchools' Managing Disruptive Behavior course is to identify strategies that will effectively remediate most types of mild to moderate misbehavior in schools. Second in a two-part series, it is recommended that this course be taken after its companion course, Understanding Disruptive Behavior.

Common Themes

This course reviews the following topics related to managing disruptive behavior:

- Resolving common school rules violations, classroom rules violations, and early stage misbehaviors
- Reducing or eliminating disruptions caused by students exhibiting chronic misbehavior
- Maximizing the effectiveness of intervention plans

Author

Dr. Randy Sprick is an educational consultant and teacher trainer. He conducts workshops helping school staff set up classrooms that encourage responsibility and motivation, while effectively helping students learn to behave in more responsible ways.

Training Environments

SafeSchools is ideal for a blended learning environment, complementing in-service or video training, or as a stand-alone training course. The SafeSchools approach engages the learner in an e-learning environment; while a Compliance Management System automatically tracks his/her progress through the courses. This assists the district administrator or training coordinator in demonstrating compliance.
