

School Meal Compliance

Estimated time to complete: 20 min.

Course Description

SafeSchools' School Meal Compliance course, set up in the form of a tutorial, serves as a comprehensive guide to the School Meals Initiative. This course specifically aims to train staff in the Traditional Food-based Meal Pattern, enabling districts to meet all compliance issues of the School Meals Initiative. The tutorial, which is broken up into segments permitting the learner to complete the course at his/her own pace, allows staff to understand the overall process, as well as their particular role in school meal compliance.

Common Themes

This course reviews the following topics related to school meal compliance:

- School Meals Initiative
- Traditional Meal Pattern
- National School Lunch Program
- National School Breakfast Program
- After School Snack Program
- Offer vs. Serve
- Required Meal Accountability

Author

Art Dunham served as President of the Florida School Food Service Association from 2003-2004 and is now the Secretary/Treasurer of the School Nutrition Association. Art currently holds the titles of Certified Food Service Professional and School Nutrition Specialist. While teaching Hotel/Tourism courses at the Schiller International University, Art is also the Assistant Director of school food services at Pinellas County Schools and serves as a member of the International Association of Food Protection. Art received his master's degree in food service management from the New York University in 1986 and was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Food Service (DFS) from the North American Association of Food Equipment Manufacturers (NAFEM) in 2007.

Training Environments

SafeSchools is ideal for a blended learning environment, complementing in-service or video training, or as a stand-alone training course. The SafeSchools approach engages the learner in an e-learning environment; while a Compliance Management System automatically tracks his/her progress through the courses. This assists the district administrator or training coordinator in demonstrating compliance.
